WIDE KANSAS FIELDS.
THE FIRST HOOVER YEAR.
ONLY LADIES SMOKING.
DON'T SELL WHEAT SHORT.

—By Arthur Brisbane—(Copyright 1930 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

FINE weather in Kansas as our train rolls through wide fields.
Farmers are plowing and tearing up the remainder of last year corn-cobs. At intervals oil wells show where the farmer found something better than fertility.

SENATOR CAPPER'S newspaper,
the Daily Capitol, comes aboard at Topeka with a review of President
Hoover's first year.

Senator Capper describes it as "a year of blue prints," meaning a year
of preparation.

The Capitol observes that congress has not been strongly behind the president, the "wet press is not sympathetic toward him and eastern publications with a Wall street complex are unfriendly and would prefer another president in the White House."

Senator Capper's editorial
describes the president accurately
as a man "who does not act first and reflect afterwards."

In an emergency he acts instantaneously, as in the Wall street crash. But his method is to "look into the facts first."

SENATOR CAPPER says "a blue print year is not a bad start." The president has "three years of the four to make an administration outstanding." He finds "the lesson for fair-minded people in Hoover's first year is to have confidence in Hoover."

THE PEOPLE WILL BE well
pleased, although Senator Capper
does not say so, when the "wet-dry"
question is disposed of and the tariff
with its uncertainties is out of the way, and when the "blue print" stage is passed and the construction era begun.

This train includes a "lounge
car" decorated in beautiful light yellow. Eight men and two women in the lounge car
last night. None of the men smoked. Both women smoked cigarettes. The W. C. T. U. may mean about that. The ladies were young and had their hair
in waves as permanent as hair
waves on iron Newfoundland dogs that used to stand on lawns.

And both, as they smoked,
maintained a severe expression.

Social Worker Praises Effects Of Prohibition

GREAT CHANGE FOR GOOD HAS BEEN RESULT

Tells of Conditions In
New York Among Men
Of Poverty

GRUESOME HAUNTS
ARE NOW CLOSED

God, Hope Now Replacing
Destitution In Big
Eastern City

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The lights of New York's "great white way" may shine as brightly as they did a decade ago, but there has been a big change for the better under prohibition, in the opinion of John Callahan, sometimes known as the "Bishop of the Bowery," who testified today before the house judiciary committee in support of the 18th amendment.

For 16 years, Callahan, as chaplain of the famous Tombs prison,
has seen much of life of those who do not stroll down Fifth ave. in fashionable clothing. A quarter of a century as director of the Hadley
rescue mission has afforded opportunity for observation.

His story today before the committee was that an "amazing"
change had taken place. He asserted
it was a change for the better.

"Ten years ago there were 44 saloons in the Bowery, the next year
they dwindled to six," he said.

Tells of Old Haunts
When witness told in picturesque language of "McGurk's Suicide Hall,"
the "Tub of Blood" and similar places on the Bowery, which he said
had now disappeared.

He said hundreds of men he knew 10 years ago had lived "without God and without hope" now had homes, families, autos and radios as a result of prohibition.

An echo of the last presidential campaign was heard at today's hearing when Raymond Robins, a Chicago social worker, contended that Alfred E. Smith had been defeated because he had become the "country's chief nullifier under the flag" in signing a bill repealing the New York state prohibition act.

Prohibition was described as an expression of the "great adventurous spirit of the American people," by Robins who is vice chairman of the National Committee of One Thousand for Law Enforcement.

Drinks Furniture Polish; New Law

LONDON, O. March 14.—
Undecided whether state liquor statutes cover use of furniture polish as intoxicating liquor. Mayor Harry Van Cleve invoked a law of his own to cover the case.

Jack Hill of Newark, O., appeared before the mayor on an intoxication charge. On questioning he admitted being intoxicated but claimed it resulted from the drinking of furniture polish.

After considering the case
Mayor Van Cleve provided Hill with a police escort to the city limits and directed him to get going and stay away from London.

UNEMPLOYMENT COUNCIL MEETS WITH SUCCESS

Work In Salem Responded
To by Many; Officials
Will Lend Aid

With a view to providing employment for as many men as possible,
G. R. Denning, president of the Columbiana county unemployment council, and George J. Bunn, also representing Salem on this council,
have been soliciting the co-operation
of individuals and groups and report much headway today.

Those two leaders have called on Mayor Davidson and have been promised his cooperation. The service and safety directors, city engineer and president of council assured the men they are much interested in getting city work started at the earliest possible moment.

Their message has been presented to civic clubs, business men and manufacturers, all of whom have taken steps to provide odd jobs for those temporarily out of employment.

Individuals are being urged to clean up yards, paint and provide other repair jobs at once and auto drivers will be asked to have their autos repaired, repainted and otherwise put in condition for spring.

The plan is to contribute as many small tasks as possible, the agreement of which will give at least partial time to men not engaged at their regular work.

Thus far the response has been gratifying to the men who are devoting much of their time to this effort. The county council is comprised of men in every community
in the county, appointed by Gov.
Cooper.

POLICE CLEAR BABY MYSTERY

Mother Of Wanda Jean Found After Search By Patrolman Ralph
Stoffer; No Charges

A mother's wish to provide her four-month-old baby with food and medical attention, which she could not afford, led this woman to leave her child in a Salem home.

This was disclosed last night
when Patrolman Ralph Stoffer and County Probation Officer J. H. Mc-Creedy brought the mother to Salem, from Sebring, for questioning.

The officers were without a clue at the start of the case, but gained an admission from the mother last night.

The woman is not living with her husband and is hard pressed to care for an older child. Stoffer announced today. She was released and it is probable that no charges will be filed.

The work of the officers cleared up what mystery hovered over the leaving of Wanda Jean, the baby, in a Salem home.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Hoover is prepared to make an early decision on the choice of a successor to the late Associate Justice Edward T. Sanford of the supreme court.

Confronted with a host of names,
the president is believed by those who have conferred with him still to have an open mind. They also lean to the belief that he is scanning the Southland first. Justice Sanford came from Tennessee.

There have been several who have gone to the White House this week with recommendations, and they have left with the impression that the president will not confine
the field of eligibles to either political party.

Republican Majority
Justice Sanford was a Republican,
but even should a Democrat be named in his place, it would leave the make-up of the court, five Republicans and four Democrats.

Several names are before the president from the south, including Senator George of Georgia, Judge
Samuel Sibley of the federal court

McDONALD WINS BRITISH DEBATE

Vote Against Government
On Unemployed Is Handed Defeat

LONDON, March 14.—The government of J. Ramsay MacDonald, victor in one fight with its opposition, today looked forward to an impending more dangerous tilt
a week from now when the coal mines controversy is resumed.

The conservative motion of censure blaming the government for the general depression failed to pass
the house of commons last night
after a lengthy debate by vote of 306 to 235, a majority of 73 for the government.

In opening the debate Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader, predicted the government probably would win, and about 25 conservative members absented themselves
from the house just before the division was taken.

MacDonald was not present at the debate, and was said to be in no way perturbed in expectation of a defeat, since a tacit truce seems to have prevailed until after the naval conference shall have been concluded when the labor prime minister almost certainly will have to fight to maintain his government.

Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer laid a large part of the blame for unemployment directly at the door of the opposition and declared that there was a deliberate conspiracy to discredit the government, an example of which was to be found in almost daily circulation
of stories about factory closing.

LISBON, March 14.—William and Elmer Mercer of East Liverpool, against whom two joint indictments
were returned by a special grand jury two weeks ago, changed their plea from not guilty to the bur-glarizing inhabited dwelling, and entered a plea of guilty to burglary
of an uninhabited dwelling, when they were taken before Judge W. F.
Lones Thursday afternoon by their counsel, Frank H. Hoover, of East Liverpool.

Both young men were sentenced to serve from one to 15 years in the Ohio penitentiary on both indictments, the sentences to run con-

Federal charges of operating a

the owner are also pending against the man, Chief Thompson reported today. Authorities notified him
Thursday that Johns was wanted in Barberton for stealing an automobile but he will be forced to face trial in the county court before he will be turned over to the federal court.

Johns is alleged to have passed
several forged checks to Salem mer-

He was arrested but escaped then
and was re-arrested in Fort Myers
following which he was brought to Salem to face trial.

NINTH PLANET FOUND IN HEAVENS; STUDENT FIRST TO SEE WORLD

Still Remains Blotch of Light On Negative, But Has Been Verified and Extensive Study Is To Start At Once; Was Predicted

(By The Associated Press)
LAGSTAFF, ARIZ., Mar. 14.—
Discovery of a new world, probably larger than the earth, brought to mathematical astronomy today its second achievement of the kind.

The new and nameless planet,
whose actual presence in transneptunian space was first detected last January 21, by an astronomically trained farmer from Kansas,
was heralded yesterday by Dr.
V. M. Slipher, of the Lowell observatory.

A strange "blotch of light," on a photographic negative, registered by an extremely delicate instrument at the observatory, led to the discovery.
The speck of light was noticed by Clyde Tombaugh, the young student of astronomy, and this led to detection of the heavenly body,
bringing the known number of major planets in the solar system to nine.

Fix Location of Planet
The location of the new body of January 21 was fixed at three hours Greenwich time, seven seconds west from delta geminorum with Lowell's predicted longitude. It is 823.19.

LISBON, March 14.—No defense
was offered by Lawrence L. Vickers of Salem in the suit filed against him by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Artman, also of Salem, and a verdict for $2,970.50 was returned by a jury here late Thursday in favor of the plaintiffs who were represented by Atty. Homer H. Hickling.

The suit was filed to secure money which plaintiffs alleged was due them for care of Vickers' two minor children. It was filed in common pleas court early in 1929. Counsel for Vickers, which had filed an answer in the case, failed to appear
when the matter came to trial yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Artman have been supporting Vickers' two boys since the death of their mother in 1921.
Hickling told the jury.

Boy Describes Battle In Graphic Manner; Did

(By The Associated Press)

NEW CASTLE, PA., March 14.—
The thread of the state's carefully constructed story in the murder trial of Mrs. Irene Shrader centered today on the roadside spot near here where state Highway Patrolman Brady Paul fell mortally wounded last Dec. 27.

Members of the family of Mrs.
Emma Baldwin were called to add their accounts of what they saw
from their home on the wintry day
when Paul and a fellow officer halted an automobile carrying two men,
a young woman and a boy, to question them regarding a store hold-up.

Mrs. Baldwin last night testified:
"I saw the woman fire; I heard
the shot—then I saw the officer
sway and his hands twist."

Officer Takes Stand
Private Ernest Moore, who with Paul had responded to the warning
sent out to the state highway patrol
to be on the lookout for the bandits, pointed at the former Benwood, W. Va., waitress and said she was the woman in the car who figured in the gun battle.

The state's witness told of seeing Irene Shrader in Butler the day of the holdup. A store manager named the woman and her companion, W.
Glenn Dague, Wheeling, W. Va., as those who robbed the store. The

CONVICT KILLED DURING ESCAPE

Man Who fled Ohio Prison
Was to Be Returned to
This State Soon

BRAWLEY, Cal., March 14.—
Death has saved Walter Sinclair,
42, alias Joe McFarland, escaped convict from being returned to the Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus.

Sinclair, arrested here yesterday
upon information received from Ohio officers, was shot and killed by police officer, Robert Cordill, as he made a dash for freedom from the Brawley city jail.

Mrs. Tilla Mason, mother of Sinclair, with whom he had been living here for several months, admitted her son had been convicted of automobile theft in Ohio and had escaped from prison. She said he also had served a term in the Oregon state prison in connection with a murder.

Sinclair was arrested here by Capt. Walter Walsh who accompanied the prisoner to jail and turned him over to Cordill for booking.
As Cordill opened a cell door Sinclair dashed into the street. Cordill followed and opened fire as the fleeing prisoner swung on the side of a passing automobile. Two bullets struck the man and he died almost instantly.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN RUSSIA

It is of interest to note that the unemployment demonstration staged in various cities of the United States last Thursday were not duplicated in Soviet Russia. That is not the whole story, however. It was not because Russia is free from unemployment, but merely because demonstrations are forbidden. The country which is reported to have sent $125,000 to the United States to stage demonstrations couldn't use the money at home.

Figures compiled in the international labor office in Geneva from official Soviet statistics and verified by data gathered by the central bureau of the Socialist and Labor International show that there are 7,000,000 unemployed in Russia, 2,000,000 of whom are workers out of a total of approximately 8,000,000 who have been at one time or another in recent years employed in industry there. The remaining millions are agricultural laborers. All this in the land where "everybody works," to use the phrase of the agitators.

Soviet Russia has a form of unemployment insurance, which works but partially since preference is given to those active in the interests of the ruling party. Yet, any indication of objection is met with ruthless opposition and labelled "counter-revolutionary." Those who merely utter protests are jailed, sent to prison camps or exiled to Siberia. It is estimated there are from 75,000 to 100,000 political prisoners, "workers" and peasants in the jails and prison-camps of Russia, which may be one way to establish a new idea in ruling others.

The decided flop which the demonstrations took in most cities was one of the best things which could have happened to show honest, intelligent citizens the futility of the program, but the workers of the Russian Soviet are still here—and still talking. Their explanation, if any, of unemployment in the "model country" might be interesting.

An Elyria school teacher has been arrested for whipping a pupil with an eighteen-inch ruler. Back in our school days, the average school teacher seemed to feel that she lacked the vigor to do justice to the case and turned the offending pupil over to the superintendent, and if our memory serves us correctly, the hickory paddle he used was about two and a half feet long.

Over 5,000 citizens of Moscow were turned out of their homes this week to make room for others higher in the favor of the bolshevik government, which gives us another light on the Soviet Russian conception of their slogan, "Liberty and Equality."

What Others Say

WORLD REACTION
Senator Borah's unofficial inquiry regarding the fate of the 14 Jewish rabbis reported to be held under arrest by the Soviet government, with the elicited reply that all but three of them have been released, is but a sidelight upon a situation of the most profound significance. Virtually the united religious bodies of the world outside of Russia are protesting against the atrocious conduct of the Soviet government at Moscow, against the persecution of religious leaders in that country and the prohibition of religious meetings and ceremonies. Since history began there has been so much expression of universal condemnation.

Were it not so tragic the posture of the Moscow government in this matter would be ludicrous. There is a total inability at the Russian capital to understand the motives of the churchmen and religious leaders of other countries in their present endeavor to arouse world opinion hostile to the bolshevik program of repression. The communists at Moscow believe, or profess to believe, that this movement is simply another manifestation of "capitalism." It is, they say, proof of a purpose on the part of the other nations to engage in physical hostile operations. It is the war cry, they now declare in their proclamations and bulletins, of European and American challenge to bolshevism.

There has never been the least disposition, in this country certainly, to intervene in Russian affairs. Much as the Soviet regime has been despised as hateful and subversive of all liberty and contrary to modern spirit, the feeling here has been that all that America could do or should do is to withhold recognition of the government at Moscow, even though other powers have recognized it. American trade with Russia has not been interrupted by any American initiative, though it has been deplored by public opinion.

Now is presented the somewhat contradictory spectacle in Europe of great religious bodies, numbering in their adherents and followers and worshippers many millions of people, denouncing Russian socialism, while the governments of those countries maintain official, formal, diplomatic relations, entertaining at their respective capitals at representatives of the Moscow communists.

This may be the severest test of bolshevism. There will be no compromise on the part of the churches of America and Europe. There will be no slackening of the campaign to arouse world opinion against the iniquity of the anti-religious policies and practices of the Moscow government. Governments may be affected in their policies regarding Russian recognition. A boycott may result, but there will be no physical war, though a moral warfare may be more effective.—Washington Star.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, March 13
Although some very propitious auguries are justified by prevailing transits for this day, at the same time there is token of obstruction, delay and sudden visitation of a more or less hazardous nature. With wise manipulation and precaution the benefic influences may predominate. Personal matters may be interesting and felicitous.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year in which their own wisdom, good judgment and careful manipulation of affairs may overcome obstacles and disruptive forces. Sudden changes and new products are probable.

A child born on this day should have many excellent opportunities in life, but these must be wisely and prudently handled.

EYE STRAIN

You should not fail to appreciate the great importance of having proper lighting facilities when there is close and constant work required of the eyes. A very common cause of uncomfortable eye symptoms is poor lighting.

Eye strain is the cause of many ills. Some of them are easily corrected, but other symptoms, perhaps far removed from the eyes, are often more difficult to overcome.

The eye is a wonderfully delicate machine. With good care and attention it will last a lifetime. But a very slight thing will put it out of commission. When you begin having headache, with itching and burning in the eyes, redness of the eyeballs and perhaps swelling of the lids, look out for the sort of lighting arrangements by which you are working. If they are wrong this may account for your discomfort.

In long winter days, when the days are very dark, thousands of people work all the time by artificial light. Workers in offices, in factories, children working in the schoolroom, women in the home sewing or using their eyes for other close work—all such persons need the very best lighting facilities that can be devised. If they do not have them sooner or later there is certain to be eye-strain, more or less serious perhaps.

They are straining the delicate muscles of the eyes in poor light to make the eyes focus properly. The act of vision is dependent on muscular action. Every time you focus the eyes these sensitive muscles are brought into play. They are tiny things and a great strain upon them is sure to cause trouble.

The eyes are constantly in motion. The eye muscles get tired, like any other part of the body. Nature rebels and they cry out in misaise.

You should have your eyes tested often to see if you have the sort of eye-strain that calls for eyeglasses. If you are accustomed to wearing glasses perhaps they should be changed. Once in two years is not too often to have the eyes examined.

Healthiest!

"My little daughter is just about the healthiest girl I know," says Mrs. R. Richards, 14008 Savannah ave., Cleveland. "And I want to give credit where it is due."

"Rebecca was constipated several years ago and I gave her California Fig Syrup. It helped her so wonderfully that I have used it ever since for all her upsets or colds. It has kept her strong, energetic, rugged."

Children suffer when bowels are not regular. Breath becomes fetid, tongue coated, eyes dull. When these symptoms are neglected, biliousness, feverishness, lack of appetite invariably follow.

The first dose of California Fig Syrup relieves these symptoms and activates sluggish bowels. Successive doses help tone and strengthen weak bowels, improve appetite, encourage digestion and assimilation. Try it with a bilious, headachy, constipated child and see how it helps!

The pure vegetable product, endorsed by doctors for 50 years, always bears the name California. So look for it when buying. Adv.

In the long run it will pay you to observe this rule.

Some of the best eyes so far as vision is concerned, may be strained by bad light. Of course, some defect in them may be causing trouble. What is really the trouble can be discovered by examinations. If there is a defect you should have it corrected. You cannot be efficient if you have eye-strain, with headaches, indigestion and all the other bad feelings that go with it.

School children often complain of the eyes. They may be tired, having nausea and that miserable run-down feeling, never feeling equal to the tasks put upon them. This is all wrong.

The first thing to do is to find out what kind of light the schoolroom is equipped with and to see that the right kind is supplied, if possible. Nothing is too good for the delicate eye.

Being out in the open air is one of the best cures for sick eyes. Get into the sunshine. Give your eyes a rest when possible, even a few minutes at a time. If you use your eyes all day long in some close work do not read all the evening.

For every bit of care you give your eyes and your general health, from the time you are old enough to think, just so much stronger will your eyes be in after years. You cannot take chances with them. Do not be foolish about wearing glasses. If you need to wear them do so.

Walbridge is a retired glass manufacturer. Mrs. Libbey and Mrs. Walbridge are sisters of the late Edward Libbey known as the Toledo glass king, and founder of the Ojai country club.

CONVICT DIES IN FIGHT FOR HIS FREEDOM

Guard Killed, Other Hit
By Bullet; Man Was
"Model" Prisoner

(By The Associated Press)
TRENTON, N. J., March 14.—The attempt of Charles Evans, 29, a double life term, to shoot his way out of the state prison here last night ended in his death after he had killed one guard and wounded two others.

Frank Butcher, a guard, died from bullet wounds suffered in the gun fight with the convict. Charles Soren, another guard, was slugged with a blackjack and Ernest L. Gordon, a third guard, suffered a bullet wound in the shoulder.

Prison attaches said Evans opened his attack about 5:30 p. m. by felling Soren. As the guard was struck he called for help and Butcher and Gordon went to his aid.

Evans backed into an empty cell and opened fire on the guards.

In the exchange of shots Butcher was wounded twice, in the head and near the heart. The desperado and Gordon continued to fire at each other until Evans fell with a bullet wound in the head which killed him.

Until his attempted break for liberty, Evans since his imprisonment in January, 1929, had been a "model prisoner" and had been employed as a clerk in the prison office.

He was sentenced from Hoboken for the killing of Patrolman Benjamin Murray and for a previous slaying in which William Dryoff, a Hoboken baker, was the victim.

TWO KILLED IN EASTERN BLAZE

Firemen Lose Lives When Building Collapses;
Others Are Hurt

ELLSWORTH, ME., March 14.—Two firemen were killed and two others seriously injured today in a fire which destroyed the Hancock county supreme court building with a loss estimated at $175,000.

The dead: Raymond Peavey and Lester Salisbury.

The injured: George Fortier, internal injuries; George Patrick, internal injuries. The four men with Russell Clark had climbed to the second floor of the three-story brick building and were carried to the basement when a brick cupola on the eastern end crashed through the roof.

It was believed the records of the register of deeds and the register of probate stored in the building would be found intact as they were kept in fire-proof steel cases.

NEW PLANET

and other planetary characteristics. The discovery was accomplished much in the same manner as the finding of Neptune in 1846. Tom- baugh, a student scientist from Kansas, came to the observatory a year ago and has been working with the new Lawrence-Lowell telescope, exposing and examining the planets under the direction of senior members of the staff.

Sees New Spot
"While I was peering through the comparator at a plate, something new flickered before my eyes," Tom- baugh said. "At first I thought it simply an illusion, but I looked at some more of the plates and finally realized that I had stumbled onto an important discovery. After an examination, the senior members of the staff were soon convinced that we were viewing the trans-neptunian planet."

Two years before his death, Dr. Percival Lowell, founder of the local observatory, announced calculations on the trans-neptunian planet, and although he never had seen it, his computations indicated that such a body must exist.

While the newly discovered planet remains just "a blotch of light" on a photographic plate, astronomers at the observatory have announced that they will follow every action of the planet in order that more of its character may be learned.

FIRE DESTROYS CHEMICAL PLANT

Explosions Overcome Many When Chemical Fumes Spread
Over Wide Area

EVERETT, MASS., Mar. 14.—Fire, accompanied by frequent explosions, early today destroyed the Merrimac Chemical company plant at South Everett with a loss of $500,000. Firemen from eight cities fought the flames. Six were overcome and 100 others were affected by sulphuric fumes.

Seven buildings, three and four story wooden structures, together with much equipment, were burned. A number of cars in the repair yards of the Boston elevated system also were destroyed when the fire spread.

A stiff wind carried the smoke and fumes toward the heart of the city and 300 families were ordered to leave their tenements.

The fire started in the lacquer building of the plant and spread rapidly. The first alarm was sounded at 1:15 a. m., and the flames were brought under control at 3:30 a. m.

During the war the plant was used for the manufacture of T. N. T.

RUM RUNNER IN HOSPITAL GONE

Escapes from Police As
He Is Thought In Bad Condition

LORAIN, March 14.—Fred Hentrie, 42, Detroit, alleged rum runner supposedly bed-ridden from wounds received when coast guardsmen shelled his armor-plated tug, escaped from a hospital here late last night.

Despite two serious bullet wounds in his back which lulled his guard into a feeling of security, Hentrie arose from his cot and leaped through a ground floor window. An automobile was standing outside with the engine running, police learned later.

Hentrie's condition was regarded as critical and federal authorities were awaiting his recovery to remove him to Cleveland for arraignment on charges of smuggling and violating the prohibition laws. A guard was eating a lunch in a room several doors down the corridor when Hentrie escaped and a policeman stationed in front of the building did not see the leap.

Hospitals in this area were asked to watch for the escaped man in the belief that he would be forced to seek treatment.

Frank Smith, Hentrie's companion on the Sambi G., captured March 6, with Canadian liquor and beer valued at more than $75,000 aboard, is being held in the county jail at Cleveland under $7,500 bond.

DAYTONA BEACH, March 14.—The Sunbeam "silver bullet" with which Kaye Don, English speed driver, hopes to shatter the world's record for automobiles, will be officially christened and tested out over the beach course here today.

It was doubtful if the Englishman will attain any near record speed in the trial today and he said he planned merely to run the "silver bullet" over the nine-mile course at a moderate speed. He hopes to attain a speed later of 248 miles per hour.

FINAL TARIFF VOTE SOON, IS SENATE HOPE

Sugar, Cement Cause of Much Debating; Hurl
Voting Charges

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The senate today looked hopefully forward to a final vote on tariff bill after it has settled two more controversies, those having to do with the oil and lumber schedules.

As the end of the protracted struggle drew near, there was a manifest disposition to hasten it as much as possible, which took the form of proposals that debate on remaining amendments be sharply limited.

These emanated from both Democrats and Republicans, but their purpose could be accomplished. An unanimous consent agreement was necessary, and in the past, such suggestions as applied to the tariff debate have generally been rejected, through the objection of one or more dissenting senators.

Defeated in its efforts to keep cement on the free list and hold the tariff on sugar to its present level, the old coalition of Democrats and Independent Republicans sought to regain its majority for the roll call on lumber and oil.

Vote Trading Charges
There have been charges of a vote trading agreement engineered by old guard Republicans for the purpose of raising the duties on these commodities and on sugar and cement, heard particularly in the ranks of the Independent Republicans.

Rumors that such an agreement had been perfected led Senator Nye to ask a reconsideration of the vote which raised the sugar duty and yesterday it was refused, by a vote of 47 to 38. Immediately afterwards, the senate refused to reconsider its decision on cement by the same vote.

Thus the conference committees which will resolve the differences between the senate and house bills were provided with two important disagreements to be settled. The senate bill provides for a duty of two cents on Cuban sugar and the house measure sets the rate at 2.49 cents, as compared with the present levy of 1.76 cents. The house approved a rate of eight a hundredweight on cement, the senate a rate of six cents. The commodity is now on the free list.

Rumors that such an agreement had been perfected led Senator Nye to ask a reconsideration of the vote which raised the sugar duty and yesterday it was refused, by a vote of 47 to 38. Immediately afterwards, the senate refused to reconsider its decision on cement by the same vote.

Thus the conference committees which will resolve the differences between the senate and house bills were provided with two important disagreements to be settled. The senate bill provides for a duty of two cents on Cuban sugar and the house measure sets the rate at 2.49 cents, as compared with the present levy of 1.76 cents. The house approved a rate of eight a hundredweight on cement, the senate a rate of six cents. The commodity is now on the free list.

FINAL TARIFF VOTE SOON, IS SENATE HOPE

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The senate today looked hopefully forward to a final vote on tariff bill after it has settled two more controversies, those having to do with the oil and lumber schedules.

As the end of the protracted struggle drew near, there was a manifest disposition to hasten it as much as possible, which took the form of proposals that debate on remaining amendments be sharply limited.

These emanated from both Democrats and Republicans, but their purpose could be accomplished. An unanimous consent agreement was necessary, and in the past, such suggestions as applied to the tariff debate have generally been rejected, through the objection of one or more dissenting senators.

Defeated in its efforts to keep cement on the free list and hold the tariff on sugar to its present level, the old coalition of Democrats and Independent Republicans sought to regain its majority for the roll call on lumber and oil.

Vote Trading Charges
There have been charges of a vote trading agreement engineered by old guard Republicans for the purpose of raising the duties on these commodities and on sugar and cement, heard particularly in the ranks of the Independent Republicans.

Rumors that such an agreement had been perfected led Senator Nye to ask a reconsideration of the vote which raised the sugar duty and yesterday it was refused, by a vote of 47 to 38. Immediately afterwards, the senate refused to reconsider its decision on cement by the same vote.

PROXY BATTLE WAXING WARM

Youngstown Men Form Committee
To Oppose Joining Of Large Industries

YOUNGSTOWN, March 14.—A battle of proxies over the Bethlehem Steel corporation's proposed acquisition of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company began today.

A "citizens' committee" of Youngstown business leaders opposing the deal was understood to have been formed and proxies were expected to go out from both sides today. The personnel of the opposition committee was not announced.

Sheet and Tube directors have authorized the merger on the ground that that would bring about better diversification of products of the concerns. Those fighting the consolidation contend that it would mean a decline in business in Youngstown and Northern Ohio.

GANDHI MARCHES TO SALT FIELDS

Causes Trouble On Route
By Influencing Many
Officials to Quit

NAWAGON, India, March 14.—Mahatma Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader, left here at dawn today with his 79 devotees for their third day's march to the salt fields at Jalalpur in inauguration of the movement for Indian independence. They arrived shortly at Vasma and intended to proceed to Matar where they will halt for the night.

In an address before the villagers at Nawagon Gandhi congratulated the eight head men who resigned as protest against Vallabhai Patel's imprisonment. He exhorted them to manufacture and to wear homespun cloth and to volunteer as civil resistance workers.

His exhortation for severance of government connections also brought about resignation of police head men at Vasma and Mahalal. The villagers vowed in Gandhi's presence not to fill the vacancies.

DELEGATES TO SPEED EFFORTS IN CONFERENCE

Cancel Week-end Pleasure Jaunts to Remain At London Posts

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, March 14.—An attempt will be made this week end to salvage the five power naval conference from the stalemate into which it has fallen.

Delegates hope to find a limitation treaty which will not involve such high figures as in reality will constitute a building program agreement.

Go-I matches and other week end engagements are being cancelled in the belief that conversations seeking solution of the problems presented by French demands will be continued tomorrow and Sunday.

Intensive efforts to lead the conference out of its difficulties actually began yesterday with a round of private meetings and later a statement by Premier MacDonald that he was encouraged by the day's events. Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, announced also that he was not discouraged and that he had been misunderstood when quoted as saying he was leaving the conference.

In an explanation of statements made Wednesday to French journalists M. Briand declared that contrary to reports he was not in a bad humor. He said he was not sufficiently naive to get into a "bad humor" over the work of the conference.

It was regarded as significant that he did not issue the statement of the French position which he had intimated would be forthcoming last night. On the other hand he told newspapermen he still was confident the parity would accomplish something in the general interests of peace.

QUACK PHYSICIAN SHORN OF TITLE

Investigation After Woman Loses Legs Proves Man Unfit To Practice Surgery

CHICAGO, Mar. 14.—The state of Illinois has stripped the title of "doctor" from Henry J. Schireson, self-styled "greatest of plastic surgeons."

An order revoking Schireson's license, signed yesterday by Michael F. Walsh, director of education and registration, culminated charges brought by Miss Sayde Holland that Schireson induced her to submit to an operation "to straighten her bow legs." As a result of the operation, it was necessary to amputate both legs.

Dr. M. L. Harris, president of the American Medical association, reported he found that Miss Holland did not have bow legs; that Schireson was not of good moral character; that he had been the owner of a "quack institute and had twice served prison terms for quackery."

Among the celebrities Schireson listed as patients were Fannie Brice, "Peaches" Browning, Truly Shattuck and Sophie Tucker.

NEW JUSTICE

For the northern district of Georgia; Walter C. Stacey, justice of the North Carolina supreme court, and Judge John J. Parker, of the federal circuit court of appeals, fourth district. All of these are Democrats except Parker.

White House callers also have gained the impression that the president will seek to avoid a man aligned with the extremist ranks of either liberalism or conservatism. There is still some feeling in the senate over the recent contest of the confirmation of Chief Justice Hughes in which the issue of conservatism was raised against him. Friends of the president believe he will seek to avoid arousing either of the two sides in the Hughes fight.

Movements For Borah

There are prospects of strong movements for both Senator Borah, of Idaho, and Judge William S. Kenyon, of the federal circuit court and a former Republican senator from Iowa. Both are identified with the liberal class. Borah waged the fight against the Hughes confirmation.

But if those who believe the president will avoid the issue recently raised in the senate in the Hughes fight are correct, he probably will steer clear of anyone identified with the content. The name of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee of 1924, and prominent lawyer continues to be heard in the discussion. Mr. Davis comes from West Virginia, although much of his practice has been in New York of recent years.

SCHRADER CASE
The customers corroborated his testimony.
Then Moore, bearing marks of the wounds on his face and head, took the stand. He said he was fired upon and wounded by a man in the back seat, and of the flight of the two men, the woman and the child, leaving Paul dying by the roadside.
Asked if he could identify the woman in the car, he replied: "Yes, it was Irene Shrader."

Boy Gives Testimony
NEW CASTLE, PA., March 14.—A 14-year-old boy took the witness stand today to help the state weave its web of evidence around Irene Shrader, on trial for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul.
The boy is Raymond Baldwin, son of Mrs. H. D. Baldwin, who testified yesterday that he saw Irene shoot Paul. Raymond, evidently was thrilled at the sight of the gun shown him by prosecution counsel, and eagerly recounted details of the fatal gun battle.
He told of a woman, who he identified as Mrs. Shrader, from the car, firing a gun into the trooper's stomach, backing him against a telephone pole and holding him there.
The lad said, however, that he did not see the actual shooting of Paul. He had turned his attention to the gun fight between Patrolman Moore, Paul's companion, and the mysterious man who occupied the back seat of the car in which Irene and two companions were said to be fleeing from a holdup in Butler.

Konjola Ends

Four Years Of

Severe Illness

Youngtown Man Praises Modern

Medicine . . . Says It Brought

Relief After Others Failed.

MR. JOHN THOMAS

"Euchach (rheumatism and rheumatism) bothered me terribly for four years," said Mr. John Thomas, 47 Fleming street, Youngtown. Nothing I ate agreed with me and great quantities of gas formed in my stomach after every meal. Shortness of breath and severe heart-palpitation invariably followed these gas accumulations. Rheumatism attacked me, principally in my right leg. The pains were so severe that walking was always difficult.

"I was hardly prepared for the relief Konjola brought me. In a short time my health was over entirely. Today I do not suffer from gas pains and bloating. The shortness of breath and heart palpitations are a thing of the past. Best of all the trifling pains from rheumatism have left me with the rest of my ailments and I get about more easily than I have in a long time. My entire system has been built up by this master medicine, Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Salem at all J. H. Lease drug stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

FLASHES OF LIFE

WASHINGTON—When three girls in the front seat head him, Arthur H. Walter is able to drive an automobile with due ease. He convinced a judge by measurement and diagrams after a policeman had given him a ticket because of his load of femininity.

WASHINGTON—In these days of motor cars and planes all army officers must know when a horse shoe fits a horse. The word comes from the secretary of war, who was once a cowboy.

NEW YORK—If a plane is all right, it is a pretty good thing to stick to it, instead of parachuting, in the opinion of Clarence Chamberlin, who showed that a stalled machine could come to earth more slowly than a parachute dropped from it. Any good pilot can do the same thing, he insists. To prove his statement, Mrs. Ruth Nichols dropped a man in a parachute, 3,000 feet up and came to the ground a minute after the man.

WASHINGTON—Bugs in the senate! Some motifs have been noted in the room where the president signs bills in the closing days of a session, but where senators often confab at other times.

THE OIL CUSHIONED CHASSIS

CHASSIS PROTECTION, CHASSIS PERFORMANCE,
that Nash alone Provides

NASH engineering has built an amazing amount of extra value and extra satisfaction into the 1930 Nash "400's." You will not find the oil cushioned chassis in any other car at the Nash price. Eventually, perhaps, but not now. And Nash offers you this superior chassis protection in both the Twin-Ignition Eight and Six. All Nash models, even the lowest priced, are equipped with an efficient, modern system of centralized chassis lubrication which eliminates the bother and uncertainty of hand greasing. In addition the Twin-Ignition Eight and Six have permanently lubricated springs, encased in steel spring covers. This means chassis bearings, including spring shackle bolts and springs, constantly bathed in oil. No squeaks, creaks or rust—longer life! And you will find the "400" price no higher than that of other cars without this valuable safeguard.

Murder Charges At Wooster

WOOSTER, March 14—Charles Hannah and Earl Conold will be arraigned tomorrow on charges of first degree murder in connection with the disappearance of Mevin Hoot 4, from Orrville more than a year ago, according to Prosecutor Marion Graven.

HOPES TO MAKE 250 MILES AN HOUR IN THIS CAR

Here is the "Silver Bullet" in which Kaye Don (center), British driver, hopes to better Major Henry Segrave's automobile speed record at Daytona Beach, Fla. The present record is 231.30 miles an hour.

Rich Awards Spur Don
To Gain Speed Crown

Britisher Will Attempt
To Shatter Record
Of Segrave

(By The Associated Press)
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 14—Laurie's more substantial than fleeting fame was Kaye Don if he shatters the world's auto speed record here this month.

First there is the $5,000 Wakefield statue in solid gold, which has just been completed.

The trophy will be Don's if the Englishman can drive his $125,000 Silver Bullet faster than Sir Henry Segrave shot the famous Golden Arrow to the present record of 231.30 miles an hour. In addition, Don, if successful, will receive 1,000 pounds a year until his mark is beaten.

Two years have been required to complete the Wakefield trophy since it came into being January 1, 1928. During that time it has been won by Captain Malcolm Campbell of England, the late Ray Keech of Philadelphia, and Sir Henry Segrave.

Selection was made by a joint committee composed of the Royal Mint advisory committee and the committee of taste, appointed by the Worshipful Company of Goldsmiths, an ancient guild. A statue of a racing figure, winged and spurred on by lightning flashes—"The Spirit of Speed"—was selected. The committee superintended each step of its construction.

Back of the trophy is a story of the revival of an art almost forgotten. Not in more than 300 years had a casting been made in pure gold of such size, delicacy and complexity, goldsmiths discovered. A forgotten branch of the goldsmith's art had to be rediscovered.

Lord Wakefield, millionaire Brit-

tish sportsman, has for years been one of the world's most liberal patrons of racing, not only of automobiles, but also of boats and airplanes. Last year he bought Segrave's famous Golden Arrow machine and placed it in a British museum.

He formerly was lord mayor of London and heads a large lubricant factory.

An audience of 250 heard Dr. J. L. Clifton of Columbus speak here recently. The speaker was introduced by C. E. Oliver of East Palestine, a long time friend and with whom Mr. and Mrs. Clifton spent the week-end. Mrs. Charles Morris, accompanied by Mrs. P. L. Harris at the piano, and Russell Harrow, accompanied by Mrs. Harrow, sang solos. A quartette of high school students, Erna Dyer, Mary Bricker, Audrey Hollibaugh, and Floyd Hanna, gave the opening number.

O. O. Thomas, chairman of the P. T. A. and Principal Devitt spoke briefly.

W. E. Scott and son Herbert attended the funeral of their uncle, Frank Hayes, at Monaca on Sunday. Frank Hayes died at 9:30 a. m. on Friday and his oldest brother, John Hayes of Oklahoma, died

"THEY HAD TO SEE PARIS"

At The State

"They Had To See Paris." Will Rogers first all talking picture was written by Homer Croy, the dialog by Owen Davis, Sr., dean of American playwrights. Frank Borzage directed the production and Bernard Steele staged it.

The story deals with the sudden rise to wealth of an Oklahoma family when an oil well comes in a gusher and their desire to see Paris individually and collectively.

The trip is made in grand style, and once in the French metropolis Mrs. Peters is determined to marry her daughter to a title. She plunges into society in spite of the protests of her less ambitious husband.

The role of Pike Peters, who becomes a millionaire over night, is enacted by Will Rogers, the best known personality in the United States. Irene Rich portrays his wife, while the son and daughter are played by Owen Davis, Jr., and Marguerite Churchill. Others in the cast are Efi Dorsay, Ivan Lbedeff and Rex Bell.

Among the most prominent are Warren Hymer, Lee Shumway, Roy Stewart, Russell Simpson, Joe Rickson, Richard Alexander, Colin Chase, Elizabeth Patterson and Caroline Rankin.

HIGH SCHOOLS GATHERING TO DISPLAY WARES

COLUMBUS, March 14.—The city was swinging today among Ohio's choicest high school basketball teams, sorting out the weak and leaving only the strongest fives to battle tomorrow for the right to enter the state tournament in Columbus.

A riotous day of narrow escapes for some favorites and upsets of others was expected as 45 teams threw themselves into the six district tournaments at Dayton, Athens, Akron, Findlay, Dennison and Delaware. The free-for-all started shortly after noon on all fronts except those of Akron and Delaware whose first engagements are tonight.

Meanwhile 56 teams representing Class B high schools with less than 150 boys enrolled, had gathered at Kell, Westerville, Athens, Findlay, Dayton and Dennison to battle for tickets to the Columbus meet next week. Two teams in each class from Findlay, Akron and Kent, and one in each class from the other cities, will earn the right by tomorrow night.

Columbiana High Cagers Close Schedules With Fair Records

COLUMBIANA, March 14.—Columbiana high school basketball teams ended their 1935-36 schedules both winning the Class B championships of Columbiana county, while the boys went one step farther but were eliminated in first game of the district tournament, being beaten by one point by Bristol, Tumball county champions. The score was 23-24.

Coach Barbe's lads were somewhat of a disappointment during the regular season, winning only three games out of 14, but they proved a good tournament team, winning three straight to cop the county tournament at Salem and almost came through in their opener in the district tournament at McDonald. Five of the games were lost by one or two point margins, and the final analysis shows that Columbiana scored 443 points to their opponents' 433.

The boys proved slow to start in the majority of their games, but usually did their best work in the second half. Capt. Andy Andrich, proved an able leader, and led the scoring in most of the games. The entire first team, Andrich, Zellars, Maurer, Leonard and Harwood are seniors, as is Hart, first string sub. Of the substitutes left, only Fred Detwiler and Brungard have had experience.

Girls Win 11 Games

The girls won 11 out of 17 games, doing their best work toward the close of the season, when they won nine out of the last 11 games, and during the season scored 445 points to their opponents' 331. Lisbon girls were the only ones in this district to show an advantage, both games being lost to the county-seat girls.

Eleanor Lehman led the scoring while Captain Seederly and Lowell Sewall were outstanding in all around work. Seederly and Lehman are seniors and will not be available next year, while the guarding section will be back intact to form a nucleus for next year's team. These four guards, Shaffer, Shearer, Fisher and Greaves did great work in almost every game, only twice during the season letting the opponents score more than 27 points. The teams to exceed this total were Alumni and Salem, who scored 38 and 34 points respectively. Of the substitutes available for next year, Maxine Vaughn looks the most likely and has had the most experience. She would have undoubtedly made the first team this year had she not been up against a veteran combination. Other subs with experience include: Henry, Coleman, McKenzie and Hart.

Following is the season's record of both girls and boys:

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

To glorify a very plain pudding or pie and meringue. It makes the simple dish attractive, especially if forced through a pastry tube into decorative peaks and spirals. But it can be spread smoothly with a knife to form a puffy brown top.

Meringue is easy enough to make but unless a few rules are observed, it may go wrong. It may be too brown, or too hard or worst of all, flat, in which state it doesn't look alluring and has the texture of rubber.

The basis of meringue is white of egg, and the invariable rule about egg cooking applies—moderate heat. If the meringue is left in an oven that is too hot it will brown very quickly, but later flatten and be tough. Also, if meringue is spread over a hot pudding or pie it will flatten. It will also have a wrinkled appearance instead of being smooth and puffy.

A too slow oven is just as bad. If the oven is not warm enough then the bubbles in the stiffly beaten egg whites will collapse before they cook, the mixture then melts from its snow-like state to a liquid, which, of course, doesn't cook properly.

So much for the reasons why meringue goes wrong. Now, how to prepare a puffy meringue.

Meringue for Pie or Pudding

2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat the egg whites until stiff, then gradually add the sugar, continually beating and finally add the vanilla. That is all to the mixing of a meringue.

It must be spread immediately and sent to the oven at once. If allowed to stand the air bubbles will break and the mixture dissolve, and it cannot be beaten up properly again. If, therefore, the meringue is for a newly baked pie or pudding it should not be prepared until the dessert has been cooked and completely cooled. The meringue must be spread on a cool surface, then placed in a moderate oven. Let bake from eight to 15 minutes, until a light golden brown, and as soon as it is properly colored remove from the oven.

A meringue may be a dessert in itself. A de luxe restaurant dessert is meringue glass—which is meringue shell filled with ice cream. These meringue shells have to be a little firmer than the meringue spread on top of a dessert.

Meringue Shells (For Filling)
3 egg whites
1 cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg whites until stiff, and very slowly add the sugar, beating constantly. Baking powder should be added with the sugar first. Finally add the vanilla. Place even spoonfuls on a paper or pan, leaving plenty of space in between for spreading. Start in a moderate oven, leaving door slightly open for the first 30 minutes, then close the door so that the heat is slightly increased, and bake for another 30 minutes.

These meringue shells may be filled with a variety of delicacies. Plain whipped cream, chocolate flavored, or mixed with crushed berries, or a spoon of ice cream. A slightly tart fruit is especially good to blend with the heavy sweetness of the meringue.

Bread pudding can be one of these children's lunches that seems like a desert, yet contains sufficient nourishment to be a real meal. A good bread pudding can be delicious and isn't necessarily a way to use up left-over stale bread, although this is sometimes an advantage. One of the best puddings is made of slices of fresh bread and is as nourishing as an omelet.

Bread and Butter Pudding

Sliced bread
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon sugar
4 tablespoons currants
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Lemon rind

Cut the bread into strips, or rounds, after slicing about one-half inch thick. Butter each piece on both sides. Put a layer of bread in a baking dish, sprinkle with currants, a little sugar, grated lemon peel and cinnamon, then put another layer of buttered bread on this and currants and seasoning. Beat the eggs and milk together, pour over all and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour, or longer if necessary to get the custard firm. Test with a knife, and when it comes out dry, the custard is finished. Remove and serve either hot or cold, accompanied by a fruit or plain cream.

Paterfamilias

By W. B. Trites

Mr. Trites has chosen a small industrial town for his setting and in it he has placed Dr. William R. Stanton, the family physician. Dr. Will is dreamer and idealist. He has just reached fifty and realizes that none of his dreams of youth have been fulfilled, that he and his family are still struggling along, but that doesn't thwart his ideas, for he still sees great things for the future.

His daughter, Julia, is married to a drunkard, and upsets the whole family—there is also Cora, another daughter and Jack, the son, whose future looks most unpromising at the beginning of the book.

"Paterfamilias" is overdone; all the characters are either better or worse than the average person. One even might say that these people all teach a moral, which is most unusual in this day, when morals are omitted from most books.

As the story comes to a conclusion, each character in turn reforms. The drunkard, renounces drink and dies a hero's death. Jack the son, sees his mistakes and does his utmost to correct them, and so on. As for Dr. Will, he becomes the governor of the state and his most unheard of dreams can not compare to this. You leave them all preparing to take possession of the governor's mansion, a happy and united family.

Chariot Wheels

By Sylvia Thompson

"A permanent victim at your chariot wheels." That is what Elsie Parady told the noted young writer Lester Midge when he married Cressida. Perhaps Lester did love Cressida, but as time went on, one permanent victim was not sufficient for those chariot wheels and there were many temporary ones.

Cressida realized the situation but with her daughter and the life long devotion of a former suitor, Robin Driessell, she manages to live beyond and above the silly philanderings of her husband.

Part three is the most interesting part of the book. Stella, the daughter, tells her tale from the time when she first begins to observe things until her engagement is announced. An author frequently makes a child the medium for giving the reader a clearer insight of the adult characters and Miss Thompson has done this exceptionally well.

It is a book that once you have finished you will probably forget. None of the characters are especially outstanding and the situations are not new.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

"Strictly fresh" is an ambiguous description of an egg. It may not mean exactly what the customer thinks it does. The literally fresh egg—one laid within recent hours (not days) and as one gets it sometimes on a farm, is plainly enough, a fresh egg. Commercially, "fresh egg" means any egg that has not been in cold storage, but actually it may be as much as 30 days old.

And here is where a peculiar paradox enters. A storage egg may be better than a so-called fresh egg. If, for example, the egg several weeks or even a month old has been "shell treated"—which is spraying or dipping in mineral oil—it will remain in good condition, and for some time. The untreated fresh egg will not be so good in a few days.

What makes an egg deteriorate? There are tiny pores in the eggshell and through these the moisture evaporates, little by little. Of course this doesn't happen if the egg is kept covered. In a state of nature, the hen takes care of this—completely enveloping the egg until it's hatched. If the egg is removed from this natural protection, it at once begins to lose weight. Unless, as above mentioned it is artificially protected from the air. This may be done by coating with oil or fat. By packing down in bran, sawdust or sand, or by immersing in lime-water.

It's easy enough to determine the quality of an egg by tests. Here are a few.

And if a dealer should sell an inferior quality as a fresh egg—well, there are always plenty of others who won't.

First, a fresh egg has a thick, rough shell. That's one indication, but not conclusive.

Hold it to the light. If it seems cloudy, it is not fresh, but if clear, it is.

Place the egg in a bowl of water. A perfectly fresh egg will sink to the bottom and rest horizontally. If it is less than fresh, the larger end will rise slightly, and the more it rises, the older is the egg. This is because more evaporation takes place at the larger end, and as there is more room, so much air gets in that it automatically floats. An egg several weeks old will rest on the bottom but with an upward incline toward the larger end. An egg several months old will stand upright on its small end. And if it is many months old it will rise perpendicularly to the top.

Also, if, when you pick up an egg and shake it, the contents seem to move, the egg is stale. And if you hear a rattle, don't bother to open the egg—just throw it away.

"It's very good," whispered Margery across the luncheon table at the little French restaurant, "but isn't it a sort of hash?" She looked at the "rechauffe" she had ordered because it sounded interesting, and new, but the dish had a familiar look. As a matter of fact, she would not have been deceived if she had remembered her French, because "rechauffe" means merely reheating, and the dish hadn't been glorified by a misleading title.

By Any Name

A number of very ordinary foods—bashes of meats, fish or vegetables, toasted bread, pancakes, and so on—might be passed by with indifference if they were offered by their homely names. But clothed in foreign names they seem alluring, especially if incomprehensible. Still, in order to avoid occasional disappointment when selecting a dish from a menu card in an unknown tongue it's well to remember some of the guises in which plain foods are offered.

Hash in one form or another may be found in such words as: "Rechauffe," which is merely cooked meat, separated from its bones, then cut in cubes or chopped fine and heated.

"Chartreuse" is the combination of cooked chopped meat, heated and filled in the center of a mold of boiled rice. This looks as attractive as a dessert, when it is unmolded on a large platter and garnished with a few green vegetables like parsley, cress, etc.

"Farci" is stuffing or a dish, which has been stuffed—usually with leftover chopped meat or vegetables.

A Turkish Variant

"Pilau" or "pilaf" is a Turkish variant of the chartreuse idea. It's a mixture of rice with chopped meat or vegetables, particularly tomatoes. "Ragout" is a stew of beef or other meat.

"Macedoine" is a mixture of chopped vegetables, either fresh cooked or left over. It may be served hot with meat or piled on lettuce or salad.

"Patty" and "vol au vent" are the small and large editions of the same thing. The patty is familiar enough—a flaky, pastry-like crust which is filled with creamed meat, fish or vegetables, and one is served per person. The "vol au vent" is the same idea on a larger scale—a large patty shell sufficient for several persons, and is cut up at table.

BERNE—The Swiss maintain their reputation as the world's watchmakers. They turned out 23,000,000 watches last year, selling them for an average of $2.50 each. The United States ranked third among the buyers.

Enders appealed to the Travelers Aid society at Louisville, Ky., for help and the society notified his parents. He agreed to return home. This ends a four-day search for the youth.

Officer Asks Divorce
Ira N. Craig, a non-commissioned officer in the United States army, has filed an action for divorce in common pleas court against his wife Ada M. Craig, R. F. D. Bowling Green, Ky., charging her with extreme cruelty. They were married at Bowling Green Dec. 3, 1914.

Craig was transferred to the army barracks at Columbus, O., and arranged for his wife to go to Columbus to reside. She refused to live at Columbus and returned to her former home at Bowling Green.

Acid Stomach Is Dangerous

Sufferers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by "too much acid" in the stomach.

The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or dangerous stomach ulcers. Never dose an acid stomach with artificial digestants that give merely temporary relief. You must get at the cause. The best plan is to neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little "Bismarck" Magnesia. Then not only will the pain and sourness quickly vanish, but your food will digest properly as nature intended.

Be sure to use genuine Bismarck Magnesia. There is nothing better to settle an upset acid stomach. You feel fine in five minutes. Reliable druggists everywhere say it puts give complete satisfaction or its small cost will be returned. Bismarck Magnesia comes in both powder and convenient tablet form. Handy to carry about, easy to use, not a laxative, and, for making a disordered stomach do its duty, it works like a charm. Adv.

file an amended answer on or before March 22.

Leave to the defendant to answer by March 29 has been granted by the court in the case of Herbert Andrews against Earl Spaulding, a constable of Unity Township. The action is one in replevin.

In the case from a lower court, the motion of the plaintiff to the answer of the defendant has been sustained by Judge W. F. Lones.

Divorce Is Granted

On the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty a divorce decree has been obtained by Dortha H. Severs against her husband Clinton Severs, and upon the payment of the costs. The custody of a minor child has been awarded the plaintiff, and the defendant has also been ordered by the court to pay his former wife $5 weekly for the support of the minor.

To Marshal Liens

Liens are to be marshaled in the suit filed by the Firestone Bank of Lisbon, through its counsel, C. C. Connel against the Hinchliffe Real Estate and Mortgage Co. The plaintiff obtained a judgment against the defendant for $782 May 28, 1928, and there is now owing on the judgment $713.72. The petition asks the court for an order to sell two tracts of land in Salem to satisfy the unpaid judgment.

Seek To Recover

Suit has been filed in common pleas court by the Continental Jewelry Co., against S. C. Joy of Wellsville to recover $276 claimed to be owing on an account. The petition was filed by Attorney W. W. Beck for the plaintiff.

Sale Confirmed

The report of the commissioners has been confirmed and the court has ordered a sale in the partition action filed by Albert D. Bower against Cora A. Briggs and others.

The appraisers were Fred Capel, Will H. Coy and Harry W. Young of Salem.

Sues For Salary

M. Albert Pettit of Youngstown, engaged with the National Tire & Rubber Co. of East Palestine, as a production manager, Dec. 1, 1929, at a salary of $150 monthly for January and December, and then for a period of six months thereafter at a salary of $230 monthly, according to a petition he has filed in common pleas court against the corporation. He declares that he has received but $75 and that he now seeks judgment for $475 and interest from March 1, last.

Partition Asked

Partition of two tracts of land in Section No. 1, Center township, is sought in a petition filed in common pleas by Christ Miller against Grace A. Sampson and others. In addition the plaintiff seeks judgment for $231 against the defendants. The petition for the plaintiff has been filed by Atty's J. E. Baucknecht and George L. Lafferty.

Case Is Dismissed

Because the plaintiff in the case of Joseph W. Moore against Harry L. Pegg and others failed to secure the costs in the action as instructed by the court, the case has been dismissed by the court and judgment for costs has been entered against Moore. The court sustained the motion of the defendant April 17, last to have the costs of the case secured.

ed, but this has not been done, and as a result the dismissal was ordered.

Execution Awarded

After the report of Malcolm W. Thompson as receiver for the Colonial company, of East Liverpool had been approved by Judge W. F. Lones, he was discharged from further service. This was in the case of the Pottery National bank against the Colonial company. The court then awarded an execution in this case against Thomas and Amelia Robinson for $43.90.

KNOW THE TRUTH!

You spend your good money for food every day. For your own protection, ask yourself these questions:
Will my money stay at home to keep it busy and prosperous or will it leave our town forever?

Will it stay here to increase our prosperity, to give work to our local people, to stabilize our home industries or will it go to some distant large city and thus rob our own town of its financial security?

Shall I encourage the growth of the gigantic food trusts to help them gain a strangle-hold on the food supplies of the country, or shall I spend my money with local independent merchants to assure for myself and family good schools and churches, efficient hospitals, civic improvements and the advantages of business to our coming generation?

We are at the crossroads! Think before you spend! A sensible comparison of quality and service will convince you that your local merchant can serve you as economically as outside concerns. Sow the seed of progress by keeping your money within your own home circle, to stay here to get the benefit of it for yourself and family.

The Square Deal Stores are entirely owned and operated by local people, your friends and neighbors. They are interested in your welfare and if you don't believe it, wait until misfortune, sickness or lack of work strikes your home and find out how many outside concerns will stand by you in your distress.

Don't Go to Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores. Adv

Soft, lovely hair!

The modern artist hair-dresser can do wonderful things with your hair. But all your hair needs can not be supplied in the beauty shop. You must help at home. And that's where Danderine comes in. Danderine is so simple and easy to use. Each time you arrange your hair just put a little of this delicately fragrant liquid on your brush. As you draw it through the hair, Danderine removes excess oil, cleanses, brings out the natural color, gives your hair an amazing new lustre.

Used consistently, Danderine dissolves the crust of dandruff, keeps the scalp comfortable and healthy; stops falling hair; helps make your hair grow long, silky and abundant. Your hair is so much easier to arrange and stays in place when Danderine is used. Waves "set" with it look nicer; stay in longer. Five million bottles used a year.

VESSEL AFIRE; ALL ARE SAFE

Fear Serious Damage Has Been Done By Flames to Large Australia Bound Ship

COLOMBO, CEYLON, March 14.—Fire on the 15,000-ton liner, Comorin, early today necessitated removal of passengers and crew. Cause of the fire and extent of damage to the ship were not known immediately. The Comorin was en route from England to Australia.

After 18 hours of fighting the fire in the Comorin, the flames were still not controlled. The vessel late today had listed 30 degrees to the starboard.

The 204 passengers were slated to be seeking accommodations on other vessels as there was reason to believe the Comorin would be seriously delayed.

The Comorin, owned by the Peninsula & Oriental Steam Navigation Co. of London, is a steel twin screw oil burning steamer of 15,132 tons gross register and 523.5 feet long. It was built in 1925 at Glasgow and is engaged in the P. & O. line service between London and Australian ports.

Man Sentenced

CINCINNATI, March 14.—James Dooley, 22, former assistant teller in the Second National bank here, today had been sentenced to serve 13 months in the United States reformatory at Chillicothe. Dooley pleaded guilty to charges of embezzling $7,000 of the funds of the financial institution.

Express Confidence

COLUMBUS, March 14.—Ohio farm bureau federation expressed confidence in M. B. Lincoln, executive secretary, after committee members from Pickaway, Fayette and Logan counties complained he had usurped power that rightfully belonged to the board.

When Food Sours
 Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids; 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875. Adv.

As a depositor, you receive compound interest on your money and competent advice from our officers on your financial problems. Have You Seen Our Window?
 Yesterday we placed in our window a number of our latest arrivals in new feminine footwear.
 We hope you will pause in front of this window and see the display. We believe you will agree with us that the spring season of 1936 is bringing to Salem some extremely beautiful shoes.
 Already we have had the pleasure of fitting many of these new shoes. The selections are complete now and we suggest that you come in and try on some of these late numbers.
 The prices too, are real features and you will say they are remarkable shoes for the money.

A Tremendous Grocery Sale

ENDS SATURDAY, MARCH 15th

By special concessions on the part of the jobber and with the cooperation of the manufacturers, I am putting on the biggest sale of groceries ever attempted in the City of Salem. Look over the prices in the ad. Compare them with what others charge you and for the same items and then come and buy and buy. Buy all you can stand, then borrow some money and buy some more.
